Rhythm Study for flute, bass clarinet, violin, cello, piano and vibraphone

Full score in C

Duration: 8'40

This piece is for six players playing at five different tempos. The cello plays at ♩=96, the flute and bass clarinet at ♩=108, piano at ♩=120, vibraphone ♩=132, and violin at ♩=144. These tempos relate to each other in the ratios 8:9:10:11:12, the idea being that at regular points (i.e. every 8 bars for the cello, every 9 bars for flute and bass clarinet, etc.) the players down beats will coincide. These points of coincidence are marked in the score by rehearsal letters A-Y.

So that the relationship between the different tempos can be more clearly seen this score is not in standard score order, instead the parts are ordered so that the fastest tempo is at the top and the slowest tempo is at the bottom. This means that the order of the parts, top to bottom, is: violin, vibraphone, piano, flute, bass clarinet, cello.

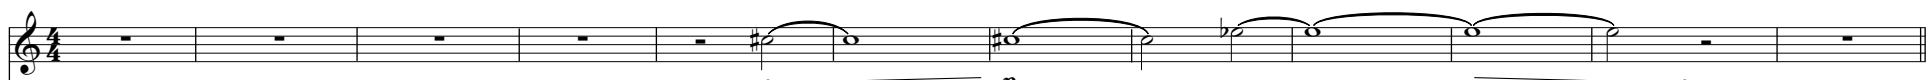

Due to the different tempos the individual player's bar numbers do not correlate. Therefore, in rehearsal, it is best to use the rehearsal letters rather than the bar numbers as these all coincide with each other.

So that the players remain correctly in sync, each player must play to a click track listened to over headphones. The Max patch provided will generate these click tracks in the correct alignment as well as providing regular cues to help the players maintain the correct place in the piece. These cues consist of a voice announcing each of the rehearsal letters and also counting the two bars preceding them (i.e. "2 . . . , 1 . . . , F"). Each player will also be given a two bar count in at the start of the piece.

U Maintain the intensity throughout the trills

The musical score consists of six staves, each with a different instrument. The Violin (Vln.) staff at the top features a complex trill pattern with a sharp key signature and a fermata. The Vibraphone (Vib.) staff below it has a steady eighth-note trill with a fortissimo (ff) dynamic and a fermata. The Piano (Pno.) staff is divided into two systems; the upper system has a trill in the right hand, and the lower system has a steady eighth-note trill in the left hand. The Flute (Fl.) staff has a trill in the right hand with a flat key signature and a fermata. The Bass Clarinet (B. Cl.) staff has a steady eighth-note trill in the left hand with a flat key signature and a fermata. The Violoncello (Vc.) staff at the bottom has a steady eighth-note trill in the left hand with a flat key signature and a fermata. The entire score is written in a single system with a common time signature.

This musical score page, numbered 53, features six staves for different instruments: Violin (Vln.), Vibraphone (Vib.), Piano (Pno.), Flute (Fl.), Bass Clarinet (B. Cl.), and Viola (Vc.). The score is characterized by dense, rhythmic patterns of sixteenth notes. The Violin part consists of a continuous sixteenth-note line with a melodic contour that rises and then falls, marked with a slur and a fermata. The Vibraphone part plays a steady sixteenth-note accompaniment, with some measures containing sixteenth-note chords. The Piano part is divided into two staves (treble and bass clef), both playing sixteenth-note accompaniment. The Flute part features a sixteenth-note line with a melodic contour similar to the Violin, including a slur and a fermata. The Bass Clarinet part plays a sixteenth-note accompaniment with some rests. The Viola part plays a sixteenth-note accompaniment with some triplets. The score is written in a key signature of one sharp (F#) and a common time signature (C).

This musical score page features six staves for different instruments: Violin (Vln.), Vibraphone (Vib.), Piano (Pno.), Flute (Fl.), Bass Clarinet (B. Cl.), and Viola (Vc.). The music is written in a key with one sharp (F#) and a common time signature. The score is divided into two systems. The first system covers measures 1 through 4, and the second system covers measures 5 through 8. The Violin, Vibraphone, and Piano parts begin with a fortissimo (ff) dynamic and transition to piano (p) by measure 4. The Flute and Bass Clarinet parts also start with ff and move to p by measure 4. The Viola part remains at ff throughout. The score includes various rhythmic patterns, including triplets and sextuplets, and is marked with dynamic changes and articulation. There are asterisks at the end of the Vibraphone and Piano staves in the second system, likely indicating a performance instruction or a specific articulation.

This musical score page, numbered 55, features six staves for different instruments: Violin (Vln.), Vibraphone (Vib.), Piano (Pno.), Flute (Fl.), Bass Clarinet (B. Cl.), and Viola (Vc.). The music is characterized by a dense texture of sixteenth-note patterns, often grouped into sixths (marked with a '6') and triplets (marked with a '3'). The dynamic marking ff (fortissimo) is prominent throughout. The score includes various articulations such as accents (v) and breath marks (h), and features complex phrasing with long, sweeping lines across multiple measures. The key signature is one sharp (F#), and the time signature is not explicitly shown but appears to be 4/4 based on the note values. The bottom staff (Vc.) shows a consistent sixteenth-note accompaniment with sixths. The upper staves (Vln., Vib., Pno., Fl., B. Cl.) feature more complex rhythmic patterns, including sixteenth-note runs and triplet figures, often with slurs and accents. The overall texture is highly rhythmic and technically demanding.
